

Beach Day Scavenger Hunt

Find them, check them off, and let the grandkids keep score.

-  A spiral shell - the more perfect, the better

-  Sea glass - any color, smooth edges only

---

-  A crab - in a tide pool, under a rock, or running sideways

---

-  Animal tracks in the sand - bird feet count

---

-  A striped rock - at least two visible stripes

---

-  A really big wave - you'll know it when you see it

---

-  Something alive in a tide pool - anemone, snail, tiny fish, anything

---

-  Something that flies over the water - seagull, pelican, or plane

---

-  Seaweed - bonus if you find the kind you can pop

---

-  Another sandcastle - give it a rating out of 10

---

-  The exact spot where the water turns from green to blue

---

-  One thing only you noticed - name it before anyone else can find it

GRANDPARENT TIP

Public beaches are free - the parking fee is the cost. Arrive before 9am to skip both the crowds and the lot attendant. Pack everything: sunscreen, snacks, water, towels. A soda on the sand should not cost $6.
